THE NEW TERRITORY OF NEVADA. tory of Nevada. The action of the late Convention which formed a constitution gives dissatisfaction to a large body of the citizens of the Valley, and, in addition to the charge that the body went beyond their authority, it is stated that the course pursued will prove most detrimental to the interests of the Territory. The anomalous attempt to subvert the laws of the United States, by creating a onstitution and State form of government for a Brritory, is denounced as the work of ambitious politicians and diseffective. The laws of Congress which relate to the go-vernment of Territories provide that the President shall appoint a Governor; the Convention declare that this offi-cer, with others, shall be elected by the people. Howeer, with others, small be elected by the people. How-ever great the opposition, it would appear that a majority of the people are favorable to the proposed change. A ticket for Territorial or State officers has been nominated, as follows:—For Governor, Isaac Roop, of Honey Lake; Secretary of State, A. L. Dorsey, of Carson Valley; Auditor, J. A. Tabbot, of Walker river; Treasurer, B. L. Kink,

Another cause of disquietude is the fear of opposition to Another cause of disquictude is the fear of opposition to the operation of the Courts established in Utah Territory, of which Carson Valley is an integral portion. Judge Cradlebaugh arrived at Genoa August 25, and was revieved with every demonstration of joy. Cannon were discharged, and a collation prepared for him at the house of Col. Recese, a leading citizen. The Judge opens his Court to-day at Genoa, and some anxiety is felt, as those at the head of the movement for a separate government express their determination to put down all outside interference, and they may consider this action as an act of hostility.

A still further trouble in the Territory is the charge that in canvassing the vote for delegate to Congress, the Con-vention was guilty of fraud in declaring Crane the choice of the people.

The number of immigrants passing through Carson Valley from the Eastern States is reported to be very large.

It is estimated at 50,000, and 200,000 head of stock of all

It is estimated at 50,000, and 200,000 head of stock of all kinds.

A fire broke out at Campo Seco August 50, and in a few minutes the whole town was in flames. The business part of the place, including what were supposed to be fire-proof buildings, was entirely consumed.

On the 29th ult. a fire occurred in Columbia, by which fifteen buildings were destroyed in as many minutes. All the houses on the east side of Broadway, from Gunn's saloon to Smith & Morse's lumber yard, and on the west side to Earl's brick building, were consumed. Owen Fallon, grocer, and J. S. Rielly, liquor merchant, are the principal sufferers. Loss $20,000. The fire is believed to have been the work of an incendiary.

The lumber yard of Burns & Mayhew, at Yreka, was destroyed by fire August 26. Loss $3,000.

The frame building owned and occupied by Heary Hutton as a dwelling house, on Greenwich street, in this city, was destroyed by fire August 30. The loss to Mr. H. is about $3,000. In the basement of the building was a gold quartz refining machine worth about $1,000, which was also destroyed.

On the 20th August an attempt was made by Indians, it is said, to fire the town of Orleans Bar. The stable of Kerby & Campbell was destroyed, together with a quantity of hay and mules. Loss $3,000.

Simon Glickman, a native of Klempken, Prussia, aged about 24 years, was murdered, August 26, between St. Louis and Laporte. Deceased was a Jew, resident of Marysville. His body, when discovered, was bleeding at each of the seventeen wounds it had received. He was probably murdered for his money.

A man named James A. Adams fell from a load of hay last Monday, at Oakland, upon the tines of a pitchfork, which, entering his body, killed him instantly.

It is reported from Shasta that two men, named Napoleon McHoy and David Welsh, were killed by Indians near the mouth of that creek. They were engaged hauling lumber, and at the time of their murder were encamped and asleep.

A pedlar named Isnael Jones was found murdered at Two Mile Bar, on the Stanislaus Sonora, August 22, by a tree taining on him which he was rutting down.

An affray took place on the 27th ultimo between a man amed Arnoid and John M. Sweeney, in which the latter was fatally wounded. The difficulty arose concerning the possession of a piece of land.

E. H. Burn, a resident of Soquel, Santa Cruz county, was killed, August 21, by a very sudden and shocking accident. He had lassoed a wild horse, running at full speed, intending to give it a violent fall when it reached the end of his rieta; but the horse on which he was mounted fell instead, and Bunn was thrown to the ground. He died in a short time.

mounted fell instead, and Bunn was thrown to the ground. He died in a short time.

Richard Morgan left his cabin, on Oregon Creek, Nevada county, August 17, for the purpose of hunting, taking with him a double barrel shot gun. He was not seen until cleven days had passed, when he was found lying on his face dead, about half a mile from his house. The gun is supposed to have been discharged whitst Morgan was leaping a ditch, the contents entering his breast. He attempted to reach his cabin, evidently, but became exhausted and died where he was found. Deceased is said to have been an Irishman and to have a father in Boston.

The dead body of Frederick Wessel, a boot and shoe dealer, was washed ashore at San Pablo about a week since. He disappeared from his residence a fortnight before. He left his establishment locked up, with about $2,500 worth of stock in it. Deceased had no family or relatives in California.

William Hoff, while in a state of intoxication, was conveyed to the station house, last Friday evening. He died a few hours afterwards in his cell. Doceased was about forty years old.

Edward P. Dutton, a native of Clermont, New Hampshire, aged twenty-six years, and Michael Makar, a native of the Ionian Islands, aged forty years, died very suddenly in this city on the 2d instant. The former was walking with some friends on the street, when he suddenly fell and almost instantaneously expired.

Several emigrants who crossed the plains have just arrived and report a massacro perpetrated by Indians at a point about forty miles from the junction of the Fort Hall and Salt Lake roads. The party had somelisty-head of stock, which was probably the cause of the mirrer. While stopping to relieve a sick horse in a deep canon, they were fired on from each side by the savages, and five persons killed. Their names are William Sheppard, Ferguson Sheppard, William Diggs, Chyborne Rains and James D. Wright. Mrs. Wright was severely wounded, but recovered slowly. A child-jof this lady, aged two years, was taken by the Indians, but on the rocks and broke the infant's leg. Many are of opion that the Mormon's instigated this massacre, as they have many others.

The arrival of emigrants overland from the Eastern States continues to be very large. Reports from Piacerville and Carson Valley state the number of families, cattle and teams to be greater than for seven years past. The disappointed Pike's Peak gold seckers swell the number. The latter class are very destitude.

THE TOWN OF MURPHY'S LAID IN ASHES.

The flourishing town of Murphy's, Claveras county, was laid in ashes Sunday last. The fire commenced in a dance house and swept over the entire place. Traver's store, a freproof building, only remained standing. The fire was the work of an incendary. It is thought the loss will exceed $100,000. A resident of Murphy's furnishes the appended particulars.

Sperry & Perry are burned out; they saved nothing, thinking their house direptoof. A considerable property belonging to others was stored in it for safety. Sperry says there is about $20,000 in the safe, which is still in the ruins. Sperry & Perry lose at least $25,000. Our loss is about $20,000 in the safe, which is still in the ruins. strongly built stone structure, and was supposed to be fireproof, but we are informed that some of the windows and doors were not properly secured against fire. It was probably the finest hole in the mines. The main street of Murphy's runs nearly east and west. The fire com-menced on this side, and burned casterly. menced of this Side, and burned easterly. The building in which it originated, the Magnolia, was formerly a hottel, and was, at the time of the fire, used as a drinking house.

Among the property lost was the following:—On the south side of Main street, Magnolia Hotel, Lang's fruit store, theatre building and saloon, owned by Mr. Putney; Post Office and saloon, owned by Mr. Butcher's shop, owned by two Germans; a vegetable and fruit store, a building used to store carriages (vehicles all saved), an Italian grocery, a building owned by T. Matteson, and formerly used by him as a livery stable. On the north side, east ond, a French store and saloon, the smith's shop, Myers' large store, Crispin's, and two or three other saloons. Bavis' clothing store, fruit store, two barber shops, Travers' storehouse (adjoining his fireproof store) and contents, Water Company's office, Mr. J. Worden's store, T Matteson is livery stable (stock and vehicles saved), Jones' drug store, blacksmith's shop and house, and a large number of miners' eabins.

Murphy's was one of the oldest towns in the Southern mines, situate about seventy-five miles from Stockton. It enjoyed great prosperity. At the time the fire broke out some thirty or forty thousand pounds of goods were on the way from Stockton to that place. Had they been there they would also have been destroyed. Murphy's was without a fire department.

A decree of divorce has been granted in the case of Eliza J. Dunn vs. Amasa J. Dunn.

The loss by the fire which occurred on the 26th uit, in the store in Gustom House Block, occupied by H. Cohn & Co., is estimated at $30,000.

Brayfogle, the defaulting Treasurer of Alameda county, has been admitted to bail in the sum of $3,000.

Brayfogle, the defaulting Treasurer of the Placerville Fire Pepartment, committed suicide August 24, by blowing his brains out with a pistol.

INCH LAW IS SANTA BARBARA.

On the 23d ult. some persons went to the house of Senor Badillo, about five miles from Santa Barbara, and seized on this man and his son, aged about 17 years, and took them to a tree about twenty yards distant and hung them. It appears that Badillo had been tried for cattle stealing and acquitted. This result gave dissatisfaction, and the terrible deed mentioned was perpetrated. On the following morning the tragedy became known in Santa Barbara, when a body of fifty native Californians armed themselves and proceeded to hunt up the murderers. It seems that a younger son of Badillo gave information that the parties who committed the murders were all Americans, and pointed out a young man named Nailver as having been concerned. This person and his father and brother were immediately captured. George Nidiver was taken out and shot, while the old man and remaining son were carried to town and placed in prison. Those proceedings caused great excitement among the Americans in Santa Barbara, and they immediately turned out in numbers to guard the jail, as it was feared the surviving Nidivers would be taken out during the night and be hung or shot. So stood affairs at last accounts. This is the first instance of lynch law that has occurred in the State for a long time.

WAR CLAIMS.

On the 8th of August a convention of the citizens of Oregon, intercated in the payment of Oregon and Washington Indian war claims, Mr. Fielding McMurray acting as President. A report of a committee appointed by the convention, exhibits the following facts:—

It appears that at the present time all the claims of Oregon and Washington above referred to, are in the hands of the third Auditor of the Treasury, under instructions from the House of Representatives to change the results arrived at by the Commission appointed by authority of Congress in the following particulars:—

First, To allow the volunteers engaged in said war no higher pay than was given to soldiers of the regular army.

Second, To allow for supplies, transportation, and other sevices, "the prices current, for cash, in the country at the time."

Third, To audit all claims for horses, arms, and other property, lost or destroyed in said service, according to the provisions of the act of Congress of March 3, 1849, which act limits the prices of horses in all cases to $200 each.

Suitable committees were appointed to take measures to secure the payment of the claims.

We have papers from Victoria, V. I., to August 23, which contain the following:—

An order has been issued from the Harbor Master's office, requiring all canoes leaving here for Fraser river, or foreignwise, to enter and clear at that office, and a fee of $1 is charged for each entrance and clearance.

Some excitement has been created in Victoria by the discovery on the beach, immediately below Beacon Hill; and within one and a half miles of Victoria, of a rich vein of gold bearing quartz. The Colonist says that the vein varies in width from one to two feet or so, and is situated at high water mark. As nearly as could be ascertained, it would pay, it was said, $200 per ton. The Colonist adds that, in many parts of Vancouver Island quartz gold has been found.

On the 15th of August the corner stone of the First Wesleyan Methodist church was laid at Victoria, by Gov. Douglass. The building is on the corner of Pandora and Broad streets. The religious coremonies were conducted by the Rev. Ephraim Evans, D. D., (the pastor), assisted by a number of other clergymen.

It seems, says the Gazde, that Mr. Burnaby has an interest in a coal mine near the inlet, and had fitted out a party to visit the same and explore the inlet. Mr. Moberly accompanied the expedition, partly for the purpose of hunting and party to see the country. The party has been absent about three weeks. On 16th August, a letter was brought to the camp, near New Westminster, from Mr. Moberly, stating that Burnaby and himself had been captured by the Indians, and were held as hostages for the same and explore the inlet. Mr. Moberly accompanied the expedition, partly for the purpose of hunting and the friends of the gentlemen in captivity, who are both well know and high

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

A large portion of your readers fail to enjoy the full richness of your allusions to the famous "Quadrilateral," and the "elbows of the Mincio," through not having noced that editorial "gone mad" in the Times when it originally burst upon the world. You will therefore do em, and indeed all your readers a service, if you will reprint it as it first appeared in that paper, and append also that lamest of lame apologies which was made a few reprint it as it first appeared in that paper, and append also that lamest of lame apologies which was made a few days afterwards to excuse it.

When I saw it in the Times I look it to be the production of some drunken fool who had crept into the editorial chair to try his hand on a leader, and was forcibly reminded of the monkey we read of who mounted the tonsorial chair to try his hand at shaving; he succeeded well enough in the lathering, but in the shaving cut his nose off. Or, was it written for a wager, to see whether balderdash so absurd and incoherent could appear as a leader in a popular paper with impunity? In any case, do reprint it, for it is too good to be confined to the columns of the Times.

While I am addressing you permit me in the name of civil and religious freedom, and also of common sense, to thank you for the inestimable service you have rendered the cause of both by the bold and enlightened course you have taken on the "Sunday question."

In wringing from the Churchman, and other papers of its class, admissions that the substance of all you have advanced on this subject is strictly true, and has been held to be true by the church in all ages, you have opened the eyes of a too confiding community to priestly frauds and impositions which, but for the Herald, would have continued to be received as Gospel truths for ages to come.

It is a burning disgrace to this age of progress in every continued to be received this age of progress in every come.

It is a burning disgrace to this age of progress in every other direction that we should still be trammelled by laws which originated in popular ignorance and priestly tyraning; for, although the fashion in which our backs are mounted is not the same as it used to be, we are at the present time as much a priest-ridden people as our ancestors were in the dark ages. Priesteralt is still the same demon, but he has clothed himself in a modern garb.

DREADFUL HURRICANE IN SOUTH CAROLINA—
Loss of Lers—A friend, says the Wilmington (North Carolina) Herald, writes us from Rockingham they particulars of a dreadful hurricane which swelf over Richmond county and the upper part of Marlboro district, South Carolina, on the 16th inst. The distruction of dwellings, crops, &c., appears to have been extrible, and it is feared one or two lives have been lost. So far as heard from twenty houses are reported as completely blown down; while the number unroofed and other ewise damaged is almost unaccountable. A kitchen in Marlboro, in which were four negroes, was blown clear away, without hurring the negroes. The corn blown of the fields into the swamps is represented as being many thousand bushels. Fine trees, two and three feel undered yards. Lightwood stumpe, in the open fields, were torn up and blown away. In fact, such a wind has never been experienced in that section before. A correspondent of the Carolinian says—On some of the plantations near Bennettsville, over in Marlboro, there is not a single house standing, the wind blowing down everything, and killing several persons, both white and black. It carried a negro woman two or three hundred yards out into the field, killing her instantly. In the vicinity of Cheraw it blew down some few trees; otherwise did little harm.

INDIAN FIGHT AT CACHE VALLEY.

[From the Sait Lake Valley Tan, August 24.]

Box Eldes, U. T., August 13, 1859.

Siz—I have the honor to report that, having arrived yesterday within six miles of this place, I went into camp, and two hours afterwards had reliable information that a large body of Indians were probably encamped somewhere in the canon leading from this valley to Cache Valley. I was informed at the same time that within five or six days past they had stolen a number of animals from this and the adjoining settlements, and that they were the same party who had murdered and robbed an emigrant train on Sublett's Cut-off.

I immediately resolved to attack them. At ten o'clock P. M. I broke up camp and moved quietly to this village. Here I left my wagons with a guard, and proceeded with a command of forty-two men, taking with me four pack mules with four days rations, in order to be prepared, if necessary, to pursue them in the mountains. By 2A. M. I had everything prepared for the march, and having procured a guide, who professed to know the Indian encampment, entered the canon. After a rapid march of two hours the encampment was indicated by a number of ponies grazing, and in a moment afterwards by the Indians jumping up from their beds under the bushes and running up the mountain sides, which were here covered with undergrowth. I immediately formed my men and charged upon the main body of them; in the charge several of the enemy were killed and wounded.

They then scattered and took positions behind rocks, &c., &c. Here they were charged and driven up precipices beyond the reach of men on borses. I then dismounted my nucu and kept up a fire for at least an hour and a half, which fer an hour was briskly returned by the enemy, but he gradually ceased to fire. The precipitous nature of the ground rendering it utterly impossible to pursue him, I drove off his horses and returned to this place. The attack com

The number of horses taken was twenty, nearly man-being American borses.

It is a source of great satisfaction to me to know that one of the horses captured proved to be one which the Indians had taken from the train on Subiett's Cut-off at the time of the massacre of July. Probably more be-ionging to the same train would have been captured had not the Indian animals stampeded during the action, which could not be prevented owing to the small guard which could be spared from the company for the purpose of securing property.

which could be spared from the company for the purpose of securing property.

I am much indebted to Lieutenant Ryan for his services on this occasion, which were performed with a masterly intrepedity and coolness during the whole action.

Assistant Surgeon J. Moore receives the heartfelt thanks of myself, as well as the soldiers under my command, for his immediate and kind attentions to the wounded on the field during the action, and his continual personal attendance since.

for his immediate and kind attentions to the wounded on the field during the action, and his continual personal attendance since.

The company behaved nobly on this occasion. I have the honor to refer the General Commanding to the list of wounded accompanying the report.

It is rumored to-day that 200 Bannack Indians arrived in Cache Valley yesterday. These, with the number of Indians already there, will make probably about 500. A large emigration is near a point on Bear river, twenty miles from this (Cache) Valley. I shall wait here long enough to care for my wounded and recruit my horses, when I shall proceed to Bear river, in order to prevent the Indians from interfering with emigration.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant, E. GAY, Second Lieut, Company G. 2D Dragoons, Commanding, Major F. J. Ponter, Assistant Adjutant General, Department of Utah.

ANOTHER SHOOTING APPAIR.

[From the Valley Tan, August 24.]

We do not take pleasure in recording deeds of violence, and this is the third time within a month that we have been called upon to notice such affairs—more especially when the reports are so vague and contradictory that we can vouch for nothing except the fact that on last Saturday night a house was surrounded and attacked by unknown persons, and the resident, a Mr. Drown, mortally wounded (he died the next morning), and another, an old settler here named Arnold, who was living with him, was shot through the thigh. We hear that the dying man (Prown) stated that he recognized the voices of two of those concerned, and this appears to be all the direct evidence there is.

It is said that Drown had been warned that an attack would be made upon him, yet, so far as we can learn, he made no efforts to prevent or repel it.

Some say that as many as thirty shots were fired. One of the assailed, Mr. Arnold, is reported to have fired five shots at the party; it is not known, however, with what effect. We suppose, however, that efforts will be made to bring the matter to light, and the public will then be furnished with all the particulars.

Many have gone away from here, and many are here now, who are laying the foundation for our ruin and destruction. I feel towards them as Jesus spoke of the simners in his day. They'd better have milistones tied around their necks, and be sunk to the bottom of the sea. They're drunk, fighting and swearing on the streets all the time. Why don't they do as I do? Stay at home and mind their own business. All the liquor ought to go to hell, and they who deal in it and persuade men to drink it, ought to go to hell along with it. All right, gentlemen. I wish there was more strychnine in the whiskey than there is. I wish it would kill all who can't abstain from using it. Is that a bad wish? (An individual on the stand, who was sitting near the one to whom the speaker addressed this question, gave a negative nod, which act brought forth from the aposite the following rebuke:—I didn't speak to you, but to my President.] Is that a bad wish, brother Pratt'

THE SOUTH PASS WAGON ROAD.

(From the Valley Tan, August 31.)

The division of the South Pass wagon road under the superintendence of Colonel F. W. Lander, having completed the work contemplated, the party has been disbanded, a portion returning to the States, and a portion, under Colonel Lander, going on to California. The new road leaves the old route at the last crossing of the Sweetwater, and strikes it again at or near Fort Hall. The road is said to be shorter and much better than the old road in respect to grass, wood and water. Some fourteen hundred wagons are said to have passed over it this season. Fort Hall being the point where the California and oregon roads divide, the route was followed by persons ensgrating to both places.

The road has been improved by clearing out timber, making side cuts in hills and bridging the water courses. We believe that it is the intention of the government to have a free road all the way through.

It was the intention of Colonel Lander to collect the Indians web reside in the v&inity of Fort Hall and on Snake river to have a talk with them, and make them a present of goods brought for that purpose. The indians were to have met him at the mouth of Raft river, but there were not many present at the council.

TO THE INDEPENDENT ARREGANS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK
The American party, necessitated into life by the coroschments of a power at war with the spirit of liberand hostile to our free institutions, has at last faller and hostile to our free institutions, has at last fallen a victim to the snares of its enemios.

Our influence as a separate and independent political power has been destroyed, and our very existence as a party endangered by those to whom its best interests were entrusted and in whose prudence and fidelity we had every reason to confide.

Against this act, as unpatriotic as it was uncalled for, we, for ourselves, and in the name of our constituents, whose delegates we are, most carnestly and solemnly protest.

whose delegates we are, most carnestly and solemny protest.

Believing that no political organization was ever formed under more propitious auspices, with purer or more patriotic motives, or with better prospects of ultimate success, we have striven earnestly and with a fixed purpose to disseminate the principles which gave it vitality, and which have constituted at once its sustenance and support. Our efforts have been thwarted, our labors brought to naught, and we have this day the mortification of beholding the Americas banner, under which we have so faithfully contended, trampiled in the dust.

A ticket, announcing as its standard bearers nominees selected from the republican and democratic ranks, has been put in nomination at Utica by our American State Convention.

I mily contended, trampled in the dust.

A tickot, announcing as its standard bearers nominees selected from the republican and democratic ranks, has been put in nomination at Utica by our American State Convention.

This Convention, assembled by the proper authorities for the sole purpose of nominating an American ticket, has signally failed to accomplish the purpose for which it was convened. It has done more—it has ignored its own individuality. Transcending the powers delegated to it, it has pursued a line of policy at variance with every principle of Americanism, and has thereby released the Americans of New York from overy obligation to recognize its action.

We, therefore, having in Convention advocated the nomination of an independent American ticket, as being the course which honor, duty and self-preservation alike demanded, and having openly declared our determination, as independent Americans, to oppose a ticket formed in violation of this principle, and made up of our common enemies, consident that our sentiments and our action will commend themselves to the approbation of all honorable men, do hereby proclaim to the Americans of the State of New York that, preferring honorable defeat to ignoble victory, and choosing to retain our independent position rather than as proclaim to the Americans of the State of New York that preferring honorable defeat to ignoble victory, and choose ing to retain our independent position rather than, a Swiss, to be bartered at will, we shall, during the pendin canvass, be guided by such rules of political action as our regard for the true interests of the country and our devotion to the principles of Americanism shall dictate an our conscience approve.
